He was in Belgium, Ireland, England and France with the Signal Base Depot. He has one Bronze Star. He is now in San Francisco where he reports to his old job at the Presidio at which he was employed for two years before entering the Army.

His brother, ERNEST FOSTER, who has been in Burma and India, writes that he is patiently waiting for transportation to bring him home.

News about the Brazil boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Brazil of Centerville . . . PHILLIP BRAZIL is home in Centerville with his wife, with a discharge that he received on October 29. He expects to start in business as soon as he finds the business he wants. Torpedoman EDWARD BRAZIL left Wednesday for Shoemaker, after a 30-day leave spent with his parents. He's not sure if he'll be able to leave Shoemaker to come home for a Thanksgiving dinner. Ensign RUDOLPH BRAZIL will definitely not be home for Thanksgiving. He is enroute to Leyte from Tokyo. He writes of the 28-foot waves that tossed his ship around like a piece of cork during the recent typhoon.

NEWARK WOMAN MOURNED BY MANY

One of Washington Township's prominent and well-beloved figures passed from the scene November 16, Mrs. Lena Bertolotti of Newark. Final rites were held at the Chapel of the Palms on November 19, with Requiem High Mass at St. Edward's Church and interment at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. Bertolotti, 47, had been ill for several months. The mother of two daughters, Adele and Shirley, she had been active in P.T.A. work. She was also past president of De Guadalupe, Y.L.I., past president of the American Legion Auxiliary and of the Newark Improvement Club. She also was a member of the Moose Auxiliary of San Jose.

In addition to her two daughters, she is survived by her husband and a sister, Mrs. Mary Green of Newark.

HUSKIES TROUNCE FREMONT TO TIE FOR LEAGUE LEAD

By WAYNE DAVIS

Fremont got the drop on Washington by winning the toss and electing to receive.

The first play of the game started when Jimmy Shanks, Washington halfback, made a beautiful 55-yard kick which was taken by the Fremont safety man on the 5-yard line and run back to the 25-yard line.

On the next play a Fremont back scampered around left end for a 20-yard gain. What seemed to be a touchdown drive was stopped by the Washington eleven when the Iindians were forced to yield the ball on downs.

Fremont kicked and Washington ran the ball down to the 25-yard stripe. From there the Washington gridiron, sparked by fullback Alex Bernard and Len Smith, 130-pound back, drove 70 yards to the Fremont 5-yard line, where they were stopped dead in their tracks by the hard-charging Fremont line.

Fremont took control of the ball and immediately kicked out of danger. The remainder of the first quarter and the major part of the second quarter was played midfield with the ball changing hands continually.

In the last 50 seconds of the second quarter, Huskie fullback Al Bernard threw a 32-yard pass to Len Smith, who was dropped on the 2-yard line. There Halfback Jim Shanks plowed to the 6-inch line.

On the next play, Fullback Alex Bernard plunged over the goal line for the lone tally of the game. Alden Chamness ran around right end for the extra point, making the score 7-0.

The win over the Fremont Indians places the Huskies in a tie for first place with the Los Gatos Wildcats and a chance for the championship of the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League.

The Washington gridders will be strengthened somewhat by the return of Ronnie Oliver, co-captain and first string right tackle who has been unable to play for the last four weeks due to an injury incurred in the Mt. View game.

The playoff will take place on Thanksgiving Day at 11 a.m., when the Washington Huskies invade the Los Gatos gridiron.

JOE GOMES RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS AT HOME

Friends of Joe Gomes are pleased to know that he is recovering rapidly from an attack of illness he suffered three weeks ago while at work. It was just Joe's luck to be bedfast when duck season opened. However, the school trustee, county road superintendent and farmer will soon be up and about again.

A Prayer of Thanksgiving

By MR. JAMES M. BROWN
PASTOR, NEWARK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

O God we thank Thee that there is in this season of the year a Remembrance of Thee. Many of us live in our ordinary lives as though Thou didst not exist, we do not render to Thee our praise, nor ascribe to Thee thanksgiving. So we are grateful for such seasons as this when we are inspired to think upon Thee and to acknowledge Thee as the giver of all. May this be the most spiritual Thanksgiving of our lives.

We thank Thee for our changed conditions since last this day came to us. For guns of death that have silenced: for swords that have been put away; for factories that have ceased to make instruments of war; we bless Thy name. Parents, wives and little children, who have lived through years of darkness and the shadow of death, humbly thank Thee for the Day of Peace. Soldiers of the land, of the sea, and of the air who have witnessed the hell of battle and have endured long days and years of separation, are thankful. Our hearts even as Thine, go out to those who mourn. Give them faith and courage and heal their wounds.

We pray for Thy blessing upon this Thanksgiving Day. As families meet together "send Thy peace upon the households, bless in all our homes this day of grateful reunion, and strengthen the sweet ties of blood and kinship in our hearts. Let parents be grateful for their children and children for their parents. May mutual love and kindness gladden our feast of thanksgiving to Thee." For nations we pray that Thou wilt "guide the rulers with Thy counsel and restrain the passions of the people, so that bloodshed may be averted and peace be preserved. By the pouring out of Thy Spirit upon all flesh, quicken the sense of our common brotherhood, bring the nations into a new bond of fellowship, and hasten the time when the nations of this world shall become the kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ."

We pray that Thou wilt give to each individual of our Township a thankful heart for material blessings; an intense hatred for war and its causes; a new awareness of Thee; and a share in the benefits of Calvary's Cross.

LIFE OF REV. SOUSA

"Right Rev. Msgr. Alfred de Sousa, who has served continuously since 1913 as pastor of the Church of the Holy Ghost, at Centerville, is one of the devoted and able clergymen of Alameda County, and is entitled to mention among those whose efforts have been directed to the betterment and uplift of humanity.

"He was born in Flores, in the Azores Islands, Oct. 22, 1872, and, after attending the public schools, completed his education in Angra City College, in which he was ordained to the priesthood in 1896. In 1899 he came to the United States and was appointed assistant pastor at Mission San Jose, later serving in the same capacity at the San Leandro church. His next appointment was as pastor at Atwater, where he built a new church and parish house, and from there he went to Petaluma and Cotati, where he served in the pastorate until 1913, when he came to the Church of the Holy Ghost, at Centerville.

"This parish was founded in 1886 by Rev. Domingo Governo, who had charge of the church to the time of his death, in 1913, and thus this parish has had but two pastors during its entire history of 42 years.

"Right Rev. de Sousa has done splendid work at Centerville, including the erection of a new church, of stately Roman architectural style, and a new parish house and hall.

"The membership of the church is largely of Portuguese nativity or descent. There is a Holy Name Society and a Holy Ghost Brotherhood, and all departments of the church are functioning in a very satisfactory manner.

"Right Rev. de Sousa is a

BUILDING CODE IS APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

Alameda County came a step nearer to adoption of a much-needed unified building code when a committee working under the Board of Supervisors voted in favor of a code at a meeting in Oakland November 1. The Washington Township area was represented on this committee by A. J. Petsche, secretary of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, who reported to the local organization at its regular luncheon meeting Monday.

According to Petsche, the vote favoring adoption of a county building code was 5 to 3. The three votes cast against the proposal were those of committeemen representing farm organizations. Edwin Orloff of Pleasanton, William Wagoner of Livermore, and Jeryl Fry of Mt. Eden.

These men had objected to a county code on the grounds that it would handicap farmers by increasing their building costs.

However, the code as recommended exempts all farm buildings which are 50 feet removed from public highways and all agricultural buildings.

Petsche reported that Supervisor Chester E. Stanley had attended all meetings of the building code committee and had worked toward harmony between proponents and opponents of the code.

A report on the Chamber of Commerce project of securing an architectural sketch for a modernized Main Street in Niles was made by L. R. Batman, committee chairman, who stated that the architect engaged for the job had not yet begun work on a sketch.

The chamber voted that the project be continued and that if possible the services of another competent architect be secured.

FROM COUNTY ASSESSOR TO THE BIG HOUSE

* * * * * * * * *

POLITICS HAVEN'T CHANGED IN 50 YEARS

"Vote for Henry P. Dalton for County Tax Assessor, endorsed by Democrats and the Independence League. The people should rule, not the corporations and bosses."

Who, you ask, is Henry P. Dalton.

Well, Henry P. Dalton isn't, but he was.

Recently F. A. Rose of Niles wrecked the old building on east Main Street which was built for a blacksmith shop by Tom Bernard and later occupied by the hardware store of Jack Alberg. He found a collection of election posters that someone had saved 50 years ago. They're immensely interesting.

Incidentally, this Henry P. Dalton was elected, took a bribe from one of the corporations he pretended to fight, and ended up in San Quentin! So, as you can see, politics were much the same in those days.

One of the election cards pictures a handsomely moustached gentleman, C. F. Horner, candidate on the Republican and Union Labor platforms in 1904 for supervisor. This card was printed by the Washington Press in Niles.

Horner was elected to the supervisorial office. And when Dalton went to San Quentin for accepting a bribe from a local corporation to falsify assessment records, Horner, who incidently was an uncle of Robert Blacow, succeeded to the office of county assessor.

One of the cards reads: "Vote for S. B. Vandervoort, present incumbent, Republican and Union Labor nominee for Constable of Washington Township." Vandervoort was the father of Mrs. Ben Murphy of Niles and served as constable for a number of terms.

Another card reads: "Vote for Thos. J. Power, incumbent, Democrat, Union Labor and Independence League nominee for Justice of the Peace of Washington Township."

Power, an Irvington attorney, was elected. Old-timers will remember him well. When he retired, E. A. Quaresma, attorney with offices in Niles, succeeded to his practice.

The collection yields a number of "also-rans," Walter J. Gallagher for Superior Judge and John L. Donovan for Tax Collector (and he had the finest moustache of all).

There are the cards of Herman G. Walker for Superior Judge, P. A. Haviland for County Surveyor, and G. W. Bacon for County Auditor.

Most of the candidates had the endorsement of union labor and the Independence League. Just what the Independence League was, we haven't been able to find out; but it must have been one of those vague political brotherhoods that we have cropping up even today who select a good-sounding name which means little or nothing.

Henry P. Dalton had the endorsement of the Independent League, was elected, and ended up in San Quentin. His picture looks so honest, too. The voters 50 years ago should have known better—the guy didn't wear a moustache.

LARGE CROWD AT FARM BUREAU TURKEY DINNER

Aproximately 200 people were invited to the big turkey dinner that was put on Tuesday night by the members of the Washington-Eden Township Farm Bureau.

The dinner, held in the cafeteria of Washington High, was attended by Farm Bureau officials from all over the bay area, including Bert L. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

Following the dinner, the seating of the new officers took place, with Fred Lewis of Centerville going in as chairman, and Herb Young of Tennyson as secretary-treasurer. Ed Orloff, president of the County Farm Bureau, was master of ceremonies and took charge of the installation.

WAYS TO MEET LOWER INCOME

Methods by which they may do this are reducing operating expenses, labor saving methods, improving yields, diversifying, mechanizing, changing the size of the farm, reducing debts and producing family foods.

The farmer may shift from production of commodities liable to be low in price to other commodities that promise better returns. He may, for example, produce registered livestock for breeders instead of grade livestock for butchering, or a brewing barley instead of feed barley, or field seeds instead of feeds, or vegetables and flower seeds in place of truck crops.

Sometimes he may increase his income by improving quality, by using better packages, by producing to sell when a cycle of prices indicates that some periods are more favorable than others, as producing eggs to market in November and December.

Farmers may do these things individually, and through cooperation farmers may find means for obtaining a greater share of the consumer's dollar through better marketing methods.

Means to these ends are discussed in a leaflet of the Agricultural Experimental Station, Post-War Planning by Individual Farmers, by R. L. Adams, agricultural economist on the Giannini Foundation, University of California.

SUCCESSFUL POULTRYMEN TAKE THE GOOD AND BAD

Successful poultrymen survive the years of poor income to derive the good earnings in the profit cycles which occur about every three years, as shown by a study of poultry farming in California by Arthur Shultis, specialist in farm management of the Agricultural Extension Service, University

WAR CHEST DRIVE WILL CONTINUE

Washington Township will continue its War Chest Victory Drive until the goal of $14,500 has been achieved or until everybody in the community has been reached, it was announced today by Chairman Edward E. Enos.

Enos said the decision was reached after consultation with State War Chest leaders and the same policy will prevail throughout the state.

Basis of the decision was the conviction, Enos said, that the people of this community would not be willing to mar the record of perfect cooperation and achievement which was built during the war, when two previous War Chest drives and every wartime activity received full support.

The drive thus far has reached $9,000, or 60 per cent of the goal. The fact that the goal was not achieved by Nov. 15 means an extended period of activity will continue through Thanksgiving. Enos urged that even those who have already made contributions to the drive now make a further, extra gift, in special Thanksgiving for the victory so brilliantly won. He urges that such contributions be sent to War Chest headquarters at 101 J Street, Niles.

MORTGAGE BURNED BY FULL GOSPEL

The closing Sunday afternoon of the Feast of the Ingathering of the Full Gospel Church proved to be an outstanding service. The mortgage on the church property was burned in the midst of a spirit of rejoicing.

Ministers from Centerville, Hayward, Irvington, Alta Vista and elsewhere were present to enjoy this service.

This church property was purchased on September 10, 1938, and over $4,000 worth of improvements have been added to the original purchase.

The church holds services on Saturday nights, and Sunday mornings and evenings. Pastor Fred Hahn invites you to attend.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

Aren't you just a little selfish, having that turkey dinner all to yourselves? You know people—don't say you don't!—who would welcome an invitation to share your Thanksgiving dinner with you. Don't be a stuffed shirt. Think of someone, or two, who might be alone on Thanksgiving. Call them up and say, "We have a turkey that's entirely too big for just our family. Can't you come over and share it with us?" See how happy they'll be to accept your invitation—and how happy you'll be to have thought of it!

THANKFUL

At the risk of being called a flag-waver, I am going to say that the thing I'm most grateful for this Thanksgiving is that I'm an American. I had never really thought much of what it meant to be an American until I saw some horror pictures in the newsreels that were filmed at Buckenwald prison camp. Those poor Europeans were nothing more than cattle, driven in herds to their slaughter. After her release, I saw a poor emaciated woman kiss repeatedly the hand of an American soldier. I saw close-ups of children, dead and dying, in horribly grotesque positions. I saw human bodies piled on ox-carts five or six deep. I saw the torture chambers, where helpless victims were put to death.

There were those in the audience who were going "Tch-tch" as if the pictures shouldn't be shown. On the contrary, they should be shown in every theatre, to every American. We, the favored people of the earth, take too much for granted. We do not appreciate the privileges that we have as American citizens.

And now they have a miracle pen that is guaranteed to write two years without refilling. If they'd invent a pen that automatically writes your letters for you, without your having to think, then they'd really have something.

The following is a classified ad in the "personal" column of a magazine I read this week:

WHERE IS SHE?—who loves the green earth enough to commune through growing things; music or creative work, enough to produce it; health, enough to keep its laws; money, enough to appreciate the coming, value of going. Successful farmer would like to meet "Miss Right," between 20 and 30. Box U-4.

Yes, WHERE IS SHE? We'd also like to meet her. She'd undoubtedly be quite a character.

TRY SOMETHING NEW

Are you bored? Does life seem just a repetition of the same old things? Well, is there any reason why you shouldn't try something new? Just try new experiences once in a while and see how much more exciting life becomes.

For instance, do you ever go to football games? No? Why not go to one, then? There'll be a fine one this week with Washington High playing Los Gatos. The excitement of it might make you feel young again.

How long has it been since you've danced? Too long, isn't it? Don't forget how much fun it is. Get out and try it again.

And don't forget the most exhilarating way of keeping interested in life—meeting people. How long since you've made a new friend? Are you ashamed to say?

If it's been months, you ought to be ashamed. You're getting in a rut.

of California. This period will vary in duration in depressions or periods of business stimulation, such as the recent war period.

The figures prepared by Shultis, covering the period from 1925-1944 inclusive, show the number of chickens on California farms has varied from a low of 13,168,000 in 1925 to a high of 22,900,000 in 1931. Net farm income per hen varied from $.44 in the depression year of 1933 to $3.02 in 1943.

In 1927 poultrymen exchanged nine dozen eggs to pay for 100 pounds of feed, 6.1 dozens in 1943. This is the egg feed ratio, which really determines the poultryman's profits.

WORKING HEIGHTS SHOULD BE CORRECT

Many tasks in the business of homemaking can be done more quickly and easily if the working height is adjusted to the individual. In recent years women have been following the example set in factories and have found the saving of time and physical energy well worthwhile.

Small changes can often be most helpful. Improved posture, so the homemaker no longer stoops over a low sink or working surface, is important to both health and appearance. A water-proofed wooden rack placed under the dishpan can raise the frequently used utensil to the height that proves best for the indiviual homemaker.

Ironing is made much less tiring if the height of the work surface is correct. If possible, the ironing board and equipment should be arranged so that some of the ironing can be done standing and some seated. A comfortable stool can be used for sitting, or a straight chair which is slightly tilted forward.

Working Heights for Easier Housework is the title of a circular prepared by the home management specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service, University of California. It gives suggestions for making the rack to raise the dishpan, a set of wooden blocks which will raise the working level of a table or cabinet, and a portable rolling work table and chair adjusted to the needs of the homemaker. To obtain a free copy of this circular, call at the Agricultural Extension Service, basement Post Office building, Hayward, California.

Thanksgiving

On this first peacetime Thanksgiving Day in four years we not only express our gratitude for our abundant harvests and the ample supply of material things but we give thanks that our prayers for the complete and final success of our war effort have been answered.

Millions of our fighting men who last year at this time were struggling through the cold and rain in Germany or through the heat and mud of the Philippines are home again. Millions more will be here as soon as ships can bring them. A year ago they faced the uncertainties of war. Today they have the opportunities of peace. For this we are thankful.

Yet, on this day we cannot forget that the achievement of our victory was not without immeasurable sacrifice of the lives of our youth. Of these honored dead President Truman declared in his Thanksgiving Day proclamation, "Our thanksgiving has the humility of our deep mourning for them, our vast gratitude to them."

On occasions when each of us may feel the burden of personal problems that seem insurmountable we may ask, "What have I to be thankful for?" We can find the answer by rising above our immediate and purely personal concerns to a broader and more comprehensive view of life.

From this wider outlook we can give thanks that our Nation, though sorely tired in recent years, has escaped the ravages of war; our fields are not pitted from the guns of battle; our homes are untouched by rocket or fire bombs; our children have not lived under the shadow of sudden destruction. We have not suffered from the lack of food or clothing.

Yes, we Americans have many, many things to be thankful for.

Pearl Harbor Inquiry

The Congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster should be neither a witch-hunt nor a white-wash. It should seek simply to gather the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth about that historic fiasco and let the facts speak for themselves.

It has become quite apparent that the whole story has not been told through previous investigations. It is also evident that military officials are not anxious to have some of the facts publicized, since they reveal instances of startling incompetence and negligence on the part of many of those who were responsible for the defense of Pearl Harbor.

It will be much better, however, for all of us, including both political and military officials, if there is a complete airing of all the facts, no matter how embarrassing. Unless this is done false reports and accusations will be repeated indefinitely.

More important, unless all pieces of the puzzle are put together it will not be possible to undertake such changes in our military organization and personnel as are necessary to prevent another "Pearl Harbor" should there be the horror of another war.

The vitriolic charges and counter charges which have been hurled back and forth by investigating congressmen who are on opposite sides of the political fence are not contributing to a clearer public understanding of the tragic affair.

Their duty is to seek neither to persecute nor protect anyone in the course of their inquiry, but to do the job thoroughly and honestly.

For our future safety we cannot afford to continue fighting the battle of Pearl Harbor forever.

Mr. Atlee and the Atom

Britain's Prime Minister Clement Atlee urges the view that the world can survive only through acceptance and practice of the Christian principle of brotherhood and international and national affairs.

Mr. Atlee's words would have been more convincing but for the fact that at that very time British troops were conducting a most unbrotherly campaign against independence-seeking natives in Java.

In spite of the inconsistency, however, his statement expressed a truth which daily becomes more apparent.

He also pointed out that "man's material discoveries have outspaced his moral progress." In other words, the rise of atomic power came before the world had reached a stage of moral development in keeping with it.

The imperative task, then, is not primarily to spur further intensive research toward greater material discoveries but to give impetus to a more concerted and sincere effort toward greater moral progress.

Either sharing the secret with Russia or refusing to share it with her will not settle anything. To hand over the secret before Msocow gives some better guarantee of co-operation for world peace would certainly not be wise. On the other hand, to divulge the secret as a sort of bribe for a promise of good behavior would be equally foolhardy.

The real need is that there be less talk about world brotherhood and more concrete action toward it. If this be done the world will rouse itself from the atomic nightmare of fear and go forward in the light of understanding to the use of this power for constructive purposes.

Sportsmen's News

The cock pheasant and the elusive quail took the hunting limelight this week in California with the "commence fire" order coming to state sportsmen Tuesday, Nov. 20.

The pheasant season will run for six days, concluding one-half hour after sunset on November 25. The quail season will continue until one-half hour after sunset December 15 throughout the state, except in Lassen and Modoc counties where, at the request of local sportsmen, the California Fish and Game Commission limited the season to six days to coincide with the pheasant season.

After the opening day pheasants may be hunted from sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. Daily shooting hours for quail throughout the season are 10 a.m. to one-half hour after sunset.

Bag limits for pheasants are two per day, 10 per season. No more than two birds may be in possession. Quil limits are 10 per day. 20 per week; only 10 in possession.

Del Norte county—Some good catches of salmon in the Smith river have been reported recently. Steelhead fishing in the Klamath has been fair. Duck hunting was not good the early part of the season, but is improving some the past few days.

Siskiyou and Modoc counties—Duck shooting at Tule Lake has been fair. Goose shooting has been good. Hunting in the Shasta Valley has been fairly successful.

Humboldt county — Hunters in this area have not reported much luck. Salmon and steelhead were running last week in the Mad river.

Shasta county fishermen reported lots of salmon in the Sacramento river last week but they were not striking.

Lassen county—More birds are coming in from the north in this area. Hunters have reported good duck and goose shotting. Quail and pheasants have been noted in fair numbers.

Glenn county reports fair duck shooting.

Lake county—Duck hunters were not having much success according to recent reports.

Sonoma county — Ducks are scarce in this area. A few salmon have been caught recently in the Russian river, between the mouth and Duncan Mills.

Napa county—Duck shooting has picked up some around marshes. Phoesants are not very plentiful.

San Joaquin county — Duck shooting has been poor. Striped bass fishing has been fair on the San Joaquin river below Stockton. Pheasants are scarce.

Alameda county hunters report good numbers of ducks.

Contra Costa county reports many ducks observed but that they are flying high and are hard to get.

Santa Cruz county reports fair duck shooting. A few steelhead are being caught in the Pajaro river and in the Elkhorn Slough. Best catches are on flies.

Tuolumne county—There was a good run of salmon on in the Stanislaus river last week.

Mariposa and Merced counties—Since opening day, ducks are scattered and shooting spotted. Some clubs are getting limits while others are only fair.

Monterey county—The quarantine on shell fish is off now and limits are being taken on Pismo clams at Moss Landing and Watsonville beaches. Duck hunting has been poor.

Fresno county—Opening of the duck season was good in the Owens Valley.

Kern county—Duck hunting not very good on clubs, a few limits have been killed on Buena Vista Lake. The following are expected to offer the best pheasant shooting on opening of the season: Greenfield, Conners Station, Kern Lake, Millux, and around Buena Vista Lake to the Western Water Works. Quail have been noted on the south side of Buena Vista Lake.

Orange county—Duck hunters at the clubs bagged full limits while those who hunted in other areas had fair shooting.

San Bernardino county—Lots of ducks on Baldwin Lake, but so many hunters—an estimated 3000 on opening day on Big Bear and Baldwin Lakes—that no one gets good shooting. Some pheasants are reported noted, but very few quail.

Riverside county — Not many ducks as yet in this area. Large numbers of quail have been noted in certain districts. Fair flights of doves are in Pigeon Pass, San Timatoo and Richie Canyons. A few pheasants are scattered along the old Elsinore Road.

San Diego county—Local fishing is poor. Local fresh fish markets are receiving fair catch of local lobsters and barracuda, yellowtail and halibut. Larger quantities of tuna are now being received by canneries.

BLOSSOM TIME PLAYS THIS WEEK AT CURRAN

Lovers of music, lovers of bright comedy, lovers of traditional good theatre, and just lovers in general, will welcome the 1945-46 revival of the nation's favorite operetta, "Blossom Time," which is to be the attraction at the Curran Theatre, San Francisco, starting Sunday, November 18.

This tender and poignant opera based on the life of Franz Schubert was first produced in Vienna in 1914, under the title of "Drei Madel Haus" and soon won international popularity by virtue of its romantic plot and its exquisite melodies adapted by B. Herte from Franz Schubert's own immortal music. By the early 1920's it surpassed even "The Merry Widow" in popularity and its fame soon became international. London first saw it under the title of "Lilac Time" and in 1921 it opened at the Ambassador Theatre, New York, under the title of "Blossom Time."

For the American production the Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert had engaged Sigmund Romberg to adapt the music and the late Dorothy Donnelly to prepare the book. The premiere was greeted with much enthusiasm, and today, after almost a quarter of a century, "Blossom Time" is still continuing to make history in the American theatre.

In presenting the 1945-46 revival of the beloved masterpiece, the Messrs. Shubert are featuring some of the outstanding artists in the operetta field, among them being Edmund Dorsay, Ruth Gillette, Tom Barry, Zella Russell, Harry K. Morton, Marian Stevens, Frank Farrell and Ann Lay.

"Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks" (I Thessalonians 5:16—18). This is the Golden Text for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on Thanksgiving Day.

Included in the sermon are these verses from Matthews (15:36,37): "And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full."

TOWNSHIP FAMILIES TOGETHER FOR FIRST PEACETIME THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving is a day set aside for being grateful for our blessings. It is also when families and friends gather for feasting and celebrating. Throughout the township, family dinners and parties will be held. Many of them will include boys in the service who will have their first home Thanksgiving for several years. Many people, we are told, are expressing the true spirit of the holiday by inviting service boys from close-by camps to their homes for the turkey dinner.

Fashion Frock of the Week

SOFT SHOULDERS

Shoulders are still broad, but they're no longer sharp and squared. This season they have been rounded and gently curved in keeping with the softer silhouette. Shoulders that are generous to the top of the silhouette and then, in turn, minimize the waistline, give that wonderful American-girl look!

Fashion's favorite treatment of the rounded, softer trend is the curving shoulder line that dips low on the sleeve. In this Fashion Frock of the Week, a flange seam slips around from the back and then continues to form the front yoke. The Bishop sleeves, long and full and gathered to a buttoned wristband, are graceful and becoming.

Rounded shoulders, rounded yokes, full sleeves and fuller skirts. Fashion puts curves in the spotlight!

Do you know what's missing from this picture?

For although we are now getting and installing thousands of new telephone instruments, even more orders for service are being held up (and this may be the case with you) by a shortage of other facilities that take longer to build.

In many places, for example, we will have to build complicated new switchboards before we can provide telephone service . . . in others, we will even have to put up new buildings to house those switchboards.

But we are working full speed ahead, and no matter what the conditions are that are holding up your telephone, you can be certain we are doing everything we can to get to your name on the waiting list just as swiftly as possible.
